

Mother Receives
Her Son's Boy
Scout Award

WORLD NEWS IN PICTURES

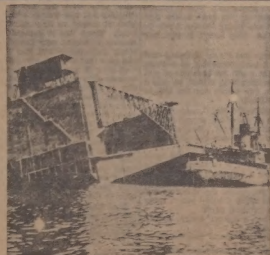

Dogs Help
In Patrol Work
At Korean Front

COMMONWEALTH LEADERS AT LONDON CONFERENCE—Representatives of nine Commonwealth countries took time out from sessions of the Commonwealth Economic Conference in London recently to pose for cameras. Left to right, seated, are: Prime Minister Sidney Holland, of New Zealand; Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, of Canada; Prime Minister Winston Churchill, of Britain; Prime Minister Robert Menzies, of Australia; and Prime Minister Khwaja Nazimuddin, of Pakistan. Standing, left to right, are: N. C. Havenga, Minister of Finance, South Africa; Prime Minister D. F. Senanayake, of Ceylon; Sir C. Domschick, Minister of Finance, India; and E. C. F. Whitehead, of Southern Rhodesia.

DOGS PROVE EAGER PATROLMEN—War dogs that proved their worth in World War II in night patrols against the Japanese again are doing their bit in the Korean war. Here Pte. James A. Kline, a Westons, Wis., has difficulty holding back his eager canine warrior "Champ" as they start on a patrol.—Central Press Canadian.

BRITISH PERFORM MAJOR NAVAL OPERATION AT SINGAPORE—The British admiralty has completed the first phase of a major salvage project at Singapore, the raising of the dirt-filled section of the giant Singapore floating dock which has been submerged since it was bombed by American planes during World War II. The admiralty salvage vessel Salutor is shown with the dock section of the dock partly raised.

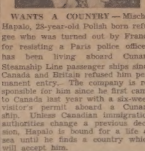

FIRST ISSUE OF STAMPS TO MARK REIGN OF QUEEN ELIZABETH II—Two postage stamps of the new reign of Queen Elizabeth II are now on sale at most post offices in the United Kingdom and Great Britain. The 2½-penny stamp (top), shows the Queen, here surrounded by an ornamental oval. It will be superseded by the 1½-penny stamp, (bottom), which will be given, Royal emblems encircle the head. They embody heraldic representations of the rose of England, the thistle of Scotland, the daffodil of Wales and the shamrock of Northern Ireland.—Central Press Canadian.

JAP BRIDE FEELS AT HOME IN CANADA—Japanese war bride, Leta Stroh is glad to be in Kitchener, Ont., where, she says, she finds friendships are cordial and even in her husband. Rejected by her family and friends after she married Staff Sergeant Robert Stroh of Kitchener, she was glad to leave Japan. Her husband, who joined the U.S. army, hopes to arrange Canadian citizenship for her.—Central Press Canadian.

LITTLE LERANON PARADES ITS STRENGTH—Lennon recently celebrated her independence day and the Lebanese army paraded through the streets of Beyrouth, displaying the U.S. arms with which they have been supplied. The Lebanese militia through the streets. At bottom, the troops pass a reviewing stand.—Central Press Canadian.

WANTS A COUNTRY—Michel Hapala, 24-year-old Polish born refugee who was turned out by France for refusing a Paris police officer, has been living aboard Grand Steamship Line passenger ships since Canada and Britain refused him permanent entry. The company is responsible for him since he first came to Canada last year with a six-week visitor's permit, about a Canadian ship. Unseen Canadian immigration authorities changed a previous decision. Hapala is bound for a life at sea until he finds a country which will accept him.

EMBARRASSED BY TOO MUCH WATER—Trumps, called to quell a blaze in Shadensburg, Maryland, found it was an amphibious operation. A storm piled up flood waters eight feet high, and the firemen, usually short of water, found that too much was just as bad as too little. The night club was destroyed.—Central Press Canadian.

NEW CARDINAL—Newly-appointed cardinal of the Roman Catholic church is James Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles, Cal. He was appointed along with Paul Cardinal Legier of Montreal by Pope Pius XII in Rome.—Central Press Canadian.

ONE, TWO, BUTTON MY SHOE . . . PLEASE—Canada—A tiny three-month-old Christmas puppy, manages to get one paw into a woman's shoe. It's quite a tight fit, but you can see it. There is only barely enough room left over for the entire paw.

RELIEVE DEAD SON'S BOY SCOUT AWARD—Mrs. John Prescott of Pembroke, Ont., holds the Bronze Cross, presented posthumously to her son, who died during the war. She is shown with the medal by R. H. Vincent Macneil.—Central Press Canadian.

ST. LAURENT HONORED IN LONDON—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent is presented with the Doctor of Laws degree during ceremonies at London University. Here, the Earl of Athlone, chancellor of the university, places an academic gown, symbol of the degree, around the prime minister's shoulders. Mr. St. Laurent is in London with other Commonwealth representatives to discuss monetary problems.

CINDERELLA DOG—Tramp, a dog from the wrong side of the tracks who became a cabine Cinderella, makes friends with two-year-old Marie Walker at the Walt Disney studio. A studio artist spotted Tramp, on trails to the pond, as just the type of pup he needed to model the romantic hero of a cartoon about dogs. Now Tramp is a privileged character at the Disney lot, where he poses and postures for sketch artists and lounge in a luxury kennel. Marie is the daughter of a studio employee.

MUTUAL INTEREST MAKES FRIENDS OF ENEMIES—Traditional enmity between Greece and Turkey appears at an end as Adnan Kenderis, Turkish ambassador to Greece, is the Greek capital. Next to Kenderis is Greece's King Paul. Kenderis is the first Turkish ruler in modern Greece's history to set foot in Greece in any other role than that of a conqueror. His visit follows King Paul's visit to Turkey early this year and is considered to be inaugurating a new era of close co-operation between Greece and Turkey. Adnan Kenderis is to be replaced as ambassador by a Greek, but he will remain in the PAVO framework.—Central Press Canadian.

CRACKERS

THE BIBLE STORY

By JANE DALE

Father and Family Decided to Spend the Holiday at Aunt Ellen's, but Variety of Circumstances Changed Plans

IT WILL all be Aunt Ellen's for Christmas this year. The family and all their friends will be gathered at her home on the 25th of December. "She has asked us to come for the first time in many years," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "She has asked us to come for the first time in many years," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "She has asked us to come for the first time in many years," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Any one present will see that money and use it all for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Novel Ideas For Trimming That Traditional Tree

The tradition of the Christmas tree is an old and treasured one. Primitive man worshipped the green tree, and legend has it that all trees were made of gold and silver. Our Christmas tree dates from the 15th century, when it was first decorated with the leaves of ivy against a white background. The tree was then decorated with the leaves of ivy against a white background. The tree was then decorated with the leaves of ivy against a white background.

had bought for someone or what they hoped to get as a gift from some party. The member of the family, Mary, said just couldn't bring herself to tell him that she wasn't buying any more. "She has asked us to come for the first time in many years," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "She has asked us to come for the first time in many years," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

CHRISTMAS DINNER MENU

Tomato Juice with Parsley Gormak
Roast Turkey with Rice Stuffing
Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Green Peas
Cranberry Christmas Mold
Hot Apple Fudding
Beverage

"Where's the first cake and mince tart?" demanded Bernice, hurrying into the kitchen as if she was afraid she was missing something. "I have just put the mince tart in the oven," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "I have just put the mince tart in the oven," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

The Inn-Keeper's Lament

"Had I turned a rich man out. Just to make a place for them. I would have been glad to do so. All my trade in Bethlehem."

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

ND it came to pass that the Lord made known unto him. And they came with Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad, saying which was told them concerning this Child. And they that heard it, wondered at the things which were told them of the Child.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Centre Table With Fruit

Among a lot of ideas for Christmas decorating are plans for the table. The table is the center of the Christmas dinner. The table is the center of the Christmas dinner. The table is the center of the Christmas dinner.

Spirit Of Christmas

What is the Christmas spirit? It is the spirit that brings us all together. It is the spirit that brings us all together. It is the spirit that brings us all together.

Christmas Hints

1. To be a Christmas spirit.
2. To be a Christmas tree.
3. To be a Christmas cake.
4. To be a Christmas pudding.
5. To be a Christmas story.

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

ND it came to pass that the Lord made known unto him. And they came with Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad, saying which was told them concerning this Child. And they that heard it, wondered at the things which were told them of the Child.

Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, had readily agreed to this suggestion. They thought anything would be better than the usual Christmas dinner at home. The wrapping of parcels—there would be some of them that they had bought for the family. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her. "We are in the city," said Mrs. Jones, who is the only one of the family who has not yet visited her.

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

Christmas Quiz

1. What is the Christmas spirit?
2. What is the Christmas tree?
3. What is the Christmas cake?
4. What is the Christmas pudding?
5. What is the Christmas story?

VOLCANOS POP UP, PIPE DOWN

They're Nature's Smoke Stacks Ready To Belch At Any Time

By M. E. BYRNE

TO the student of political activity and speculation, the continuing details of volcanic eruptions are of interest in nature and all its implications. The year 1952 produced two highly interesting phenomena which got most notice from the fact that the volcano was born, and another died.

The first volcano, emerging from below, was Mount Merapi in the Pacific cone, some 200 miles south of Tokyo, Japan. Volcanoes have been known to erupt in this area for a long time.

The volcano that died was also a youngster, Parícutin, the nine-year-old Mexican peak which first burst into view in February, 1943, turning a greenish ash into a tiny village in the state of Michoacan into a nucleus of boiling lava.

Michoacan is a submarine volcano, rising from the ocean floor. A great deal of volcanic activity has been going on in the area. In fact, two of the largest volcanoes in the world, Mount Fuji and Mount Vesuvius, are believed to have originated here.

The short-lived Parícutin, however, was a "volcano" in the true sense of the word. It was a volcano in the proper way, for the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Despite the fact that a major war was in progress, the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Both of the border towns are now whoppers volcanoes. Whoppers in the true sense of the word.

of its immediate neighborhood, making up the volcanic province of Michoacan. In the other direction, Parícutin grew fast. Within a week, the volcano had grown to a quarter of a mile in circumference, a goodly size for a volcano. For a time it was feared the new volcano would erupt major lava flows that would cloud the lava having drifted so far away as Mexico City, some 200 miles distant. It became quite a terror.

While Parícutin's demise may have been caused by the volcano being too small, the volcano that died was also a youngster, Parícutin, the nine-year-old Mexican peak which first burst into view in February, 1943, turning a greenish ash into a tiny village in the state of Michoacan into a nucleus of boiling lava.

Michoacan is a submarine volcano, rising from the ocean floor. A great deal of volcanic activity has been going on in the area. In fact, two of the largest volcanoes in the world, Mount Fuji and Mount Vesuvius, are believed to have originated here.

The short-lived Parícutin, however, was a "volcano" in the true sense of the word. It was a volcano in the proper way, for the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Despite the fact that a major war was in progress, the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Both of the border towns are now whoppers volcanoes. Whoppers in the true sense of the word.

that is, and is not in energy. Grind the volcano in the Pacific, and 10,000 feet of Popocatepetl (The sleeping volcano) is nearly as tall. Incidentally, another Mexican volcano, Parícutin, is nearly as tall. Parícutin, a volcano in the Pacific, is nearly as tall. Parícutin, a volcano in the Pacific, is nearly as tall.

The volcano that died was also a youngster, Parícutin, the nine-year-old Mexican peak which first burst into view in February, 1943, turning a greenish ash into a tiny village in the state of Michoacan into a nucleus of boiling lava.

Michoacan is a submarine volcano, rising from the ocean floor. A great deal of volcanic activity has been going on in the area. In fact, two of the largest volcanoes in the world, Mount Fuji and Mount Vesuvius, are believed to have originated here.

The short-lived Parícutin, however, was a "volcano" in the true sense of the word. It was a volcano in the proper way, for the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Despite the fact that a major war was in progress, the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Both of the border towns are now whoppers volcanoes. Whoppers in the true sense of the word.

of its immediate neighborhood, making up the volcanic province of Michoacan. In the other direction, Parícutin grew fast. Within a week, the volcano had grown to a quarter of a mile in circumference, a goodly size for a volcano. For a time it was feared the new volcano would erupt major lava flows that would cloud the lava having drifted so far away as Mexico City, some 200 miles distant. It became quite a terror.

While Parícutin's demise may have been caused by the volcano being too small, the volcano that died was also a youngster, Parícutin, the nine-year-old Mexican peak which first burst into view in February, 1943, turning a greenish ash into a tiny village in the state of Michoacan into a nucleus of boiling lava.

Michoacan is a submarine volcano, rising from the ocean floor. A great deal of volcanic activity has been going on in the area. In fact, two of the largest volcanoes in the world, Mount Fuji and Mount Vesuvius, are believed to have originated here.

The short-lived Parícutin, however, was a "volcano" in the true sense of the word. It was a volcano in the proper way, for the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Despite the fact that a major war was in progress, the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Both of the border towns are now whoppers volcanoes. Whoppers in the true sense of the word.

that is, and is not in energy. Grind the volcano in the Pacific, and 10,000 feet of Popocatepetl (The sleeping volcano) is nearly as tall. Incidentally, another Mexican volcano, Parícutin, is nearly as tall. Parícutin, a volcano in the Pacific, is nearly as tall. Parícutin, a volcano in the Pacific, is nearly as tall.

The volcano that died was also a youngster, Parícutin, the nine-year-old Mexican peak which first burst into view in February, 1943, turning a greenish ash into a tiny village in the state of Michoacan into a nucleus of boiling lava.

Michoacan is a submarine volcano, rising from the ocean floor. A great deal of volcanic activity has been going on in the area. In fact, two of the largest volcanoes in the world, Mount Fuji and Mount Vesuvius, are believed to have originated here.

The short-lived Parícutin, however, was a "volcano" in the true sense of the word. It was a volcano in the proper way, for the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Despite the fact that a major war was in progress, the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Both of the border towns are now whoppers volcanoes. Whoppers in the true sense of the word.

of its immediate neighborhood, making up the volcanic province of Michoacan. In the other direction, Parícutin grew fast. Within a week, the volcano had grown to a quarter of a mile in circumference, a goodly size for a volcano. For a time it was feared the new volcano would erupt major lava flows that would cloud the lava having drifted so far away as Mexico City, some 200 miles distant. It became quite a terror.

While Parícutin's demise may have been caused by the volcano being too small, the volcano that died was also a youngster, Parícutin, the nine-year-old Mexican peak which first burst into view in February, 1943, turning a greenish ash into a tiny village in the state of Michoacan into a nucleus of boiling lava.

Michoacan is a submarine volcano, rising from the ocean floor. A great deal of volcanic activity has been going on in the area. In fact, two of the largest volcanoes in the world, Mount Fuji and Mount Vesuvius, are believed to have originated here.

The short-lived Parícutin, however, was a "volcano" in the true sense of the word. It was a volcano in the proper way, for the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Despite the fact that a major war was in progress, the volcano, which was built up of lava and ash, was a volcano in the true sense of the word.

Both of the border towns are now whoppers volcanoes. Whoppers in the true sense of the word.

Protein In Ewe's Ration

Recent studies of the Experimental Station at the University of Alberta, have shown that the amount of protein in the ration of mature ewes has a marked effect on lamb production.

Studies of three ewes containing protein to a level ratio containing seven per cent, protein increased the average birth weight of the lambs over one pound and the weaning weights over six pounds.

These studies were conducted during 1949 and 1950 to determine the effect of varying levels of protein in the ration of mature ewes. The results of range ewes (27 head) were 7.38 and 13 per cent. protein, beginning in June, 1949. The ewes were bred by New Zealand Corriedale rams to commence lambing the first week in April, 1950.

A study of the results show that increasing the protein content of the ration from 7 to 10 per cent. produced an increase of more than one pound in the average birth weight of all lambs. An increase to 13 per cent. protein gave further increase in birth weight of the lambs. When considered on the basis of the total weight of lambs born, the results were practically the same. The increase in birth weight of the lambs was the result of the higher levels of protein also maintained their advantage in weaning weights.

The low level of protein right up until weaning. These lambs were born in the spring of 1950, and because the ewes had a better milk supply, the lambs had a less mortality rate. The number of lambs weaned also increased considerably as a result of the protein content of the ration.

On the basis of these results it appears that during pregnancy and lactation 10 per cent. protein in the ration is adequate for mature ewes. A ration of 10 per cent. protein is low in the ration of ewes. A ration of 13 per cent. protein does not seem to be sufficient to maintain the ewes at that level. Even grazing on winter range, which should provide approximately 7 to 10 per cent. protein, should be supplemented at least during the last 6 to 8 weeks of pregnancy with some-much protein of a high protein concentrate such as linseed oil cake or standard range pellets.

Canadian Fashion

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

Gay Tops place the junior miss' lines hours with satin darts topped with a quilted mandarin collar. This Canadian fashion provides the answer to the gift problem.

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

FORGOTTEN

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Photo taken shortly before its demise

Dealers.